Kiwanians Observe Belated Anniversary

Charter members Franklin Horton, Evan Wray, Paul A. Lewis, Dewey Hendrix, and Harry Hawthorne.

The local Kiwanis Club celebrated a belated anniversary at its meeting Tuesday when Harry Hawthorne, Frank Horton, and Crit Stuart, Sr., brought a Club Birthday program.

Crit Stuart, the eldest member, reported on some of the early days in Hope before there were any service clubs. On being asked why he joined the Kiwanis Club, Mr. Crit replied, "For the same reason I'm a Methodist and a Democrat. It's the best club, the best church and the best party."

Frank Horton and Harry Hawthorne, charter members, reviewed something of the history and accomplishments of the Hope Kiwanis Club through the years. It was chartered in June 1928 with thirty five members. Mr. W.S. Atkins served as the first president, the late John P. Cox followed him, and Dewey Hendrix was the third president.

In the early thirties there was a slackening of interest and the club practically ceased to exist, though its charter was never surrendered, and in 1937 it was reorganized and revitalized and has been a going concern since that time. The late R.V. Herndon served as president in the reorganization year.

in Hope, but not all are now in active membership. The Hope Club has furnished eight Lt. Governors for the Kiwanis Division in which the local club is a part. Of these "Leo Ray," Mike Kelly, Dean Murphy, Royce Weisenberger, and F.C. Crow are still living in Hope, and four of them are now active or Senior members of Hope Kiwanis Club. The Hope Club sponsored and helped organize Kiwanis Clubs in Camden, Prescott, Magnolia, and Foreman, all of which are thriving clubs.

Guests at Tuesday's meeting were Key Clubbers, Ronny

Brown and David Still, inactive charter members of the club, Evan Wray, Dewey Hendrix, and Paul Lewis, Mrs. Evan Wray, Mrs. Frank Horton, Mrs. Harry Hawthorne, Mrs. K.G. Hamilton, Mrs. Bill Mudgett, Mr. and Mrs. Crit Stuart, Jr., and Lt. Travis Ward of the State Police.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Tuesday he was not surprised by the U. S. Supreme Court decision ordering an immediate end to all public school segregation. The decision may cause "a momentary disturbance to the educational process" in some areas, the governor said. "But I don't think this will be other than a temporary situation that will be righted," Rockefeller told a news conference.

He also repeated that he still plans to call a special legislative session. He declined to say more on that topic.

Asked about President Nixon's speech Monday night on the Vietnam war, Rockefeller said it showed Nixon's "confidence and determination" more than previously.

"All Americans should stand behind him and show the solidarity of our nation in having peace and an orderly withdrawal (from Vietnam)," Rockefeller said.

Hundreds Rioting at Cambridge

By DAVID HYMAN
Associated Press Writer
CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Hundreds of riot-equipped police moved onto the campus of prestigious Massachusetts Institute of Technology today and pushed back some 500 shouting antiwar demonstrators who had set up a picket line in front of an MIT laboratory building.

Several persons reportedly were hurt.

The police swept back and forth on the rain-slicked street in front of the building in close-knit platoons, their only objective being to break up the picket line.

The police took no one into custody. News men counted about a half-dozen violent clashes between the pickets and police.

The officers in charge of the various platoons rode close behind on their men, and in one instance a burly sergeant was seen pulling off an officer beating a demonstrator with a club.

The police wheeled into the picket line from two directions, and only seldom broke ranks de-

Wallace Votes Urged to Go to GOP

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Backers of George Wallace were urged Tuesday in a newspaper advertisement to vote in the 1970 Republican gubernatorial primary to defeat Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The advertisement was signed by Mrs. Virginia Yarbrough of Pine Bluff, a 1968 elector of the American Party of Arkansas.

The letter was addressed to Walter Carruth of Lexa, state chairman of the American party, and it criticized him for remarks he has made in connection with Jim Johnson.

Johnson, an American party national committeeman, has said he is thinking of running next year in the Republican gubernatorial primary.

spite taunts and catcalls from the demonstrators.

Another G&F
Commissioner Is Removed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller announced Tuesday that he had found Raymond Farris of Biscoe guilty of misconduct in office. The governor ordered an immediate removal of Farris from the state Game and Fish Commission.

The governor's verdict came on nine of the 10 charges he filed against Farris. Rockefeller dismissed one of the charges.

Sam Robinson, attorney for Farris, declined to say whether Rockefeller's verdict would be appealed to Chancery Court. He said this would be determined after he consulted with Farris.

Robinson said Farris would remain a commissioner until the final settlement of the case.

In this, he had the agreement of H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia, who by Rockefeller's appointment was evidence officer at the hearing held for Farris last summer.

Rockefeller also has placed misconduct charges against commission member Newt Halley of Rogers, whose hearing was conducted at the time of the one for Farris. Rockefeller did not announce his verdict in the Halley case.

Rockefeller also had charged Ernest Hogue, a commission member, with flying on a commission airplane for an elk hunt in Colorado. This charge was dropped. It was the only charge involving Hogue.

The governor said during his 1966 campaign for re-election that he would seek to remove some commissioners from office. His action was held up by legal proceedings challenging his right to file the charges and hold the hearings.

However, the state Supreme Court ruled that Rockefeller had authority to conduct removal proceedings.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

AND STILL THEY COME!

Dear Helen: I'm a Serviceman's wife, whose husband is now in Vietnam. We're expecting our first child in December and I'd like to say how proud and lucky I am to have a husband as wonderful as he is. Thought perhaps your readers would enjoy this tribute, which was sent to me the day my man shipped out.

THE ARMY WIFE

What is an Army wife? She is mostly girl, though there are times, when her husband is away and she is mowing the lawn, that she begins to suspect she is also a boy.

She usually comes in three sizes, petite, plump or pregnant. During the early years of her marriage, it is often hard to determine which size is the normal one.

She has babies all over the world; and she measures time in terms of places, as other women do in years. "It was at Ft. Ruckner that we all had the mumps. . . ." "In Vietnam, Don was promoted. . . ."

At least one of her babies is born, or one transfer is accomplished while she is alone—causing her to suspect a secret pact between her husband and the Army, which provides for a man to be overseas at these times.

An Army wife is international. She may be an Iowa farm girl, a French mademoiselle, a Japanese doll, an ex-Army nurse. When discussing their army problems, they speak the same language.

She can be a great actress. Watching her children's heartbreak at transfer time, she gives an Academy Award performance. "Arizona is going to be SUCH fun! I hear they have Indian reservations. . . (and tarantulas. . . and RATTLESNAKES.)" But her heart is breaking with theirs, and she wonders if this Army life is worth the sacrifice.

One day later, en route to the new assignment, and filled with a spirit of adventure, she knows it is. That is, if the baby hasn't come down with a virus, or the twins with the measles.

An ideal Army wife has the patience of an angel, the flexibility of putty, the wisdom of a scholar, and the stamina of a horse. If she dislikes money, it helps.

She loves to gripe. ("Why shouldn't the commissary bag my groceries like the supermarkets?") She lets off steam, then goes back to bagging them again.

She is sentimental, carrying her memories with her in an old footlocker. She often cries at parades, without knowing why. . . .

She is a dreamer: "We'll never move again!" . . . an optimist: "The next place will be better!" . . . a realist: "Oh well, as long as we're together. . . ."

You might say she's a bigamist, sharing her husband with a demanding other entity called "duty." When "duty" calls, she becomes the No. 2 wife—and until she accepts this fact, her life can be miserable.

She is many persons. She is the tired traveler coming down the gangplank with a smile on her lips, love in her eyes, and new baby in her arms; and she is the colonel's wife smiling in a reception line until her cheeks ache; the foreign bride in a strange American world. She is, above all, a woman who married a soldier who offered her the permanency of a gypsy, the miseries of loneliness, the frustrations of conformity—and the security of love.

Sitting among her packing boxes, with children squabbling nearby, she is sometimes willing to chuck it all—until she hears the firm step and cheerful voice of that lug who gave her all this and then she is happy to be HIS army wife. —A PROUD AND LUCKY ARMY WIFE.

Memory Has (From Page One)

uniforms. You could stay a week at a good hotel for what it now costs you to stay for a day at a hospital.

The two greatest hangouts for loafers were the local pool hall and the county courthouse, the difference being that those in the courthouse got paid.

The only thing that made echoes in a small town after midnight was a howling dog.

You could enjoy the robust smell of burning autumn leaves in your back yard without having a neighbor call up a city official and complain you were polluting the air.

A banker would be scandalized at the effrontery of any man who came in to borrow money merely to take his wife on a vacation.

Guys who wore sideburns and bell-bottom trousers were known as "cake eaters" and thought of by the general populace as juvenile mental lightweight.

On a drive through the countryside you would see more horses and mules than tractors. If you liked something, you didn't call it "cool." You said it was a "bumdinger."

The average American would still rather run a small business of his own than work for a giant corporation.

More people talked publicly of their faith in God than their belief in astrology.

Those were the days! Remember?

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Local election returns took over the later portions of most network television stations Tuesday night, but NBC managed to get its "First Tuesday" news department feature on the air the right day. In New York, for instance, the program pre-empted the usual late afternoon movie broadcast.

The program was the usual mixed bag, opening gaily with a mood piece on Nashville, Tenn., during the annual convention of the Country Music Association.

Another piece showed Marine Corps recruiters visiting colleges and facing antiwar and antimilitary demonstrations.

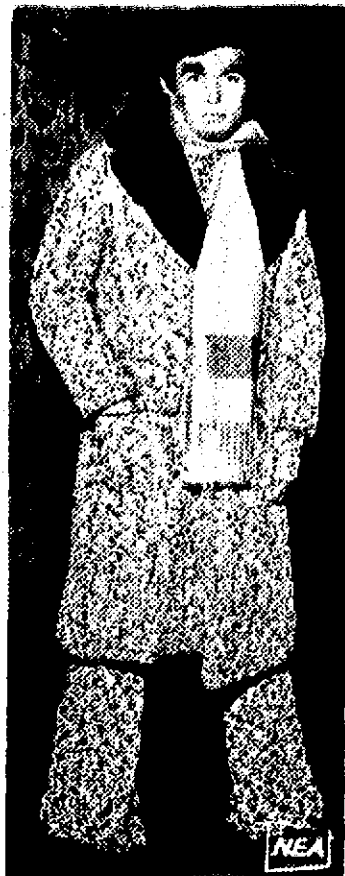

A feature on Okinawa, pegged on the desire of Japanese inhabitants to have the island returned to Japanese control was interesting but ran too long. Another on George C. Wallace revisiting the scenes of his childhood in a small Alabama town was essentially a chance for the 1968 third-party presidential candidate to restate his political and social opinions.

Most interesting and unusual segment was a camera visit to a Midwestern convent where the nuns spend most of their lives in silence and prayer. With special permission from church authorities, the cameras were able to show the daily regime of the sisters while several explained the joys and tensions of their disciplined life.

The monthly program is one of high quality and usually general interest. But since it is two hours long, it occasionally bogs down when a feature seems to be padded out.

"Sinatra," on CBS tonight—9-10 EST—is a great one-man show. Just Frank Sinatra singing song after song—16 in the hour.

It was an effective exercise in the man's style and taste as he wandered, with charm and ease from Cole Porter to Rod McKuen. He talked a bit between numbers, and there was one very funny comedy interlude in which clips of old and mostly terrible Sinatra movies were shown while the star provided wry commentary.

The program, seen in preview, was shot against a very simple linear background. Only Sinatra and Don Costa's orchestra were seen.

Social Security Questions and Answers

By KEN HARGIS

If you have any questions regarding social security, I invite your letters. Just send them to Social Security, Ken Hargis, Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501. Your name will be printed in the Hope STAR unless you request that it be withheld.

Q. I have a 20-year-old son who has been disabled since birth. His father is deceased and I am wondering if I could draw any social security benefits for him?

A. It is possible that you can—if his father worked long enough under social security and if your son became disabled before age 18 to a degree that he could not work.

Q. Where do I go to apply for a duplicate social security card? Do I have to go back to the same office that issued my original card?

A. Go to your nearest social security office. They will help you complete an application for a duplicate card. If you live in town without an office, your post office will have the necessary application.

Q. I was age 72 two months ago and I am wondering why my social security checks haven't started. I understood that I could draw my checks at age 72 regardless of my earnings. I filed my claim and signed up for Medicare in early 1968.

A. Furnish your correct mailing address and your social security claim number to your nearest social security office. You are eligible to draw your checks at age 72 regardless of your earnings. Your social security office will take care of this matter for you.

Q. I was told to report my change of address to the district office. The change of address cards I have are addressed to the Payment Center, Kansas City, Missouri. Which is correct?

A. We are now asking all social security beneficiaries to report changes of address, start or stop work reports, marriages, deaths, divorce, etc., to the district office. Beneficiaries who have cards addressed to Kansas City or any other payment center should strike out that address and write in "District Office, P.O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas 75501."

Lincoln of Camden Next Bobcat Foe

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Camden Lincoln brings its 1-7 record to Hammons Stadium Friday night, as the Hope Bobcats try for their third straight win in a 4-AA Western Divisional confrontation.

Don't underestimate the Lincoln Tigers, who are the passingest team in 4-AA with QB Cleveland Murphy throwing to ends Robert Guley and Milton Cook. Halfbacks Arthur Horne and Fredrick Porchia started last year, and carry the brunt of a basic "T" attack.

Hope Coach Ronnie Higgins realizes that Lincoln "does many things that could cause us problems." Coach Tyree J. Webster employs a wide-tackle six defensive alignment that has fared well against the toughest running offense.

There is the state of health of the Bobcat tailbacks, too, which is below par. Artis Martin received a deep cleat injury to his leg at Camden which has become infected, and he has not worked out this week.

Also, Thomas Lloyd is not yet fully recovered from a bad ankle sprain back at Fairview, though he should be available for use after several weeks of healing and strengthening.

The importance of this game is of greater stature when considering the chance of a three-way tie in 4-AA West, which would prompt comparing through all games.

Fairview travels to Arkadelphia for the game of the season so far, and the Cardinals will try to bounce back after a 14-8 loss last Friday at Magnolia. However, Arkadelphia should handle the situation.

Oklahoma, Missouri in Key Game

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

What better way to cap off Election Week than by casting a vote or two for the projected winners of Saturday's college football games. And we didn't even use a computer.

The weekend's big games are in the Big Eight, with the Southeastern, Big Ten and Western Athletic Conferences not far behind.

Oklahoma at Missouri—"The favorite doesn't mean anything in this game," says Missouri's Dan Devine, which may explain why the oddsmakers made it a pick 'em affair early in the week. "The Oklahoma-Missouri game has always been a good one and this one should be no different."

"Steve Owens (Oklahoma's tailback) is the best I've seen and their quarterback (Jack Mildren) is probably the best sophomore ever to come into our league."

Owens is fourth nationally in rushing with 881 yards on 209 carries in six games, while Missouri's Joe Moore ranks third with 184 rushes for 904 yards in seven games. Missouri also has a fine quarterback in Terry McMillan.

But McMillan has had a sore foot most of the season and may be operating at only half-speed. Besides, Missouri's defense has been suspect lately while Oklahoma revamped its defense last Saturday.

It's usually suicide to pick against a Big Eight team at home, but, living dangerously, one hesitant vote for . . . Oklahoma.

Kansas State at Oklahoma State—K-State will have to guard against a letdown after getting sky-high for Oklahoma and Missouri and with Nebraska and Colorado coming up. O-State is tough anyway, but cast one vote for . . . Kansas State!

Iowa State at Nebraska—This corner picked against Nebraska at home last Saturday and promises never to do it again. Nebraska!

Colorado at Kansas—Is this the week Kansas breaks its losing streak? No. Colorado!

Alabama at Louisiana State—The last time an Alabama team lost as many as three regular season games was 1958. Bear Bryant's first year as coach at Tuscaloosa. Welcome back, Bear. LSU.

Georgia at Florida—Cators were knocked from the unbeaten ranks last weekend but should have no trouble getting up for Georgia after last year's 51-0 debacle. Florida!

Michigan State at Purdue—Bollermakers could be ripe for an upset as they look ahead a week to Ohio State. But the Spartans are having problems on offense. Purdue!

Iowa at Indiana—Hoosiers smell the roses . . . and they don't play Ohio State. Indiana!

Wyoming at Utah—Surprising Utes have won six straight. Wyoming looked like a shoo-in until (1) racial problems and (2) a loss to Arizona State. Utes are eighth in rushing offense. Cowboys first in rushing defense. Utah!

Princeton at Harvard—First of the Big Three series and Harvard would like nothing better than to knock Princeton out of a tie for the Ivy League. Guess here is they'll do it. Harvard!

Pacific at San Diego State—Both schools joined the NCAA's University Division this year and have no reason to regret it. Pacific is 6-1, San Diego 6-0. . . with 7-0 coming up. San Diego State.

Knicks Are Unstoppable in NBA Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There seems to be no stopping the New York Knicks in the National Basketball Association.

They won their seventh straight game by whipping the Phoenix Suns 116-99 Tuesday night. It was the 12th victory in their first 13 games for the Knicks, off to their fastest start ever in the NBA.

In other NBA games, Philadelphia edged Chicago 113-109 and Baltimore rolled past San Francisco 124-105 in a double-header at Baltimore, and Seattle dumped Detroit 116-102.

Washington turned back the Carolina Cougars 117-107 in the night's only American Basketball Association activity.

With Willis Reed reeling off seven straight baskets on his first seven shots, the Knicks got off to an early 14-point lead.

Reed finished with 34 points, tops for the Knicks. Connie Hawkins of the Suns was high for the game with 39.

Hal Greer had an off night for the 76ers, but he made up for it with some last-second tactics that gave his team victory over Chicago.

With just a few seconds remaining, Greer knocked the ball out of Chef Walker's hands, then raced down court for a basket off an assist from Archie Clark to tie it.

Greer missed a shot with 13 seconds left before his theft pulled it out. He scored 18 while hitting only five of 15 field goal attempts. Clark finished with 22 points and Washington and Bill Cunningham had 21 each.

Walker had 28 for the Bulls and Bob Love contributed 27.

In the nightcap, Baltimore's Wes Unseld, the league's most valuable player last year, sat out much of the game because of foul trouble, but the Bullets rallied behind substitute center Leroy Ellis and Gus Johnson.

Ellis, who had 22 points and 1 rebounds, and Johnson, who had 24 points, each scored four points when the Bullets rang up a 15-3 streak in taking a 51-35 lead in the second quarter. Baltimore then went on another 15-3 bing in the third period—when Johnson scored seven and Ellis four—in boosting the margin to 87-65.

Jack Marin led Baltimore with 26 points. Jeff Mullins had 28 for the Warriors.

Bob Boozer scored 28 points, including six straight baskets in the second quarter that helped open a big lead as Seattle scored its first victory ever at Detroit.

Seattle built a 95-66 lead late in the third period before the Pistons rallied to chop it to nine. However, a pair of Boozer baskets thwarted that threat.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 28 points.

Warren Armstrong scored 23 points and hauled in 19 rebounds and Roland Taylor and Henry Logan scored 19 points each in guiding Washington past Carolina in the ABA.

No Bowl for Notre Dame, Ohio State

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Notre Dame's "No Bowl" policy has been in effect for more than four decades but somehow the Irish never have been able to completely shut the door on another possible bowl appearance.

Notre Dame's only post-season football game was the 1925 Rose Bowl game in which Knute Rockne's Irish whipped Stanford and Ernie Nevers 27-10.

Rumors and speculation have it that the Irish are in a financial bind because of their new multi-million dollar sports and convocation center and that they also would like to cover their football fields with synthetic turf.

To do so, money is needed and a bowl appearance is about the easiest way to pick up a fast $300,000. Add to this the fact that Coach Ara Parseghian is all for Notre Dame appearing in bowl games, speculation that Notre Dame might change its policy continues.

"In all previous five seasons I've coached at Notre Dame, we've received a bowl invitation every year," Parseghian told the Chicago football writers Tuesday.

"And every year our board meets to review and consider these invitations and every year the board turns them down," he said. "I'm sure if we can win the rest of our games this year, we'll probably get another invitation but I have no reason to believe the policy will change. Maybe somebody knows something that I don't know."

Meanwhile, the Big Ten reaffirmed its bowl policies of the "no repeat" rule governing the Rose Bowl and the rule which prohibits conference members from appearing in any other bowls.

Commissioner Bill Reed issued a statement that he has canvassed the Faculty Representatives who govern the conference and finds no possibility that the conference will modify the rules this year.

MONTREAL (AP) — Right

Cournoyer suffered a fractured nose here against Chicago Oct. 25 when struck in the face by a flying puck. He will play with a face protector.

Broyles Breaks His Political Tradition

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) —

Frank Broyles, head football coach at the University of Arkansas here, is breaking an 11-year tradition by taking sides on an election.

Broyles, in an open letter to Razorback fans, has endorsed the proposed regional airport at Tonitown.

Washington County voters approved a two-mill tax in a special election last Sept. 23 to help finance the $5 million airport, but Benton County voters rejected the tax.

A second election has been called Nov. 18 for Benton County.

Broyles said in the letter that the regional airport is the first issue that has involved the football program.

"I don't know whether, as Razorback fans, you've stopped to realize the tremendous part air travel plays in our athletic program, particularly where football is concerned," he wrote.

Broyles said the U of A must have dependable, all-weather service to successfully recruit the top high school athletes.

The proposed regional airport would replace Drake Field at Fayetteville, which cannot accommodate large jets and is often closed in by bad weather.

The new arrivals would boost to six the number of entries on the grounds for the 1½-mile turf race. Nodouble of the United States and Sabinus of Brazil arrived Tuesday, joining Takeshita-O of Japan who has been at Laurel several weeks.

Two more U.S. entries, Czar Alexander and Hawaii, and French representatives Goodly and Grandier are due later.

First Round Tie in Soccer Play

GUIMARAES, Portugal (AP) —

Southampton of England and Victoria of Guimaraes, Portugal, tied 3-3 in a first leg second-round match for the European Intercities Fairs Soccer Cup Tournament Tuesday.

Nicklaus, however, had to be counted the man most likely to succeed in the field of 144 that will tour the flat, ocean-side layout that is swept by the trade winds.

Big Jack has won his last two starts, picked up $28,000 and vaulted to fourth on the money list. He has never finished lower than third and has made no bones about his intention of moving up still more.

Usually an infrequent competitor on the fall tour, he will play at least two more events, possibly three.

He has been in a slump most of the summer, but snapped out of it at Las Vegas and has dominated play since then.

An extremely strong field is challenging him. Among the top contenders are Frank Beard, the leading money-winner, PGA champ Ray Floyd, Australian Bruce Crampton and Billy Casper, one of three who lost in a playoff to Nicklaus for the Kaiser title. George Archer, another playoff participant, is doubtful.

Don January, the last man in that playoff, is not competing. Also among the missing are Dave Hill, No. 2 on the money list, and a couple of late withdrawals, Deane Beman and Larry Hinson.

Kansas City's rushing yardage is 1,362, an average of 161.1. The Chiefs have allowed 1,567 yards for a 195.9 average. Their pass defense leadership is 1,024, a 128 average, and their rushing defense leadership is 543 yards, a 67.9 average.

Nicklaus Is Favored in Hawaii Meet

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, grimly determined to move up on the money list, holds the favorite role in his first appearance in the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament.

The 72-hole test, second from the last major event on the pro tour this year, begins on Thursday on the 7,020-yard, par-72 Waialae Country Club course, with a $25,000 purse to the winner.

While the lighter Nicklaus — He's lost 20 pounds in a month — is a heavy favorite for the top spot, he'll have to share the galleries with dynamic Arnold Palmer, still the people's choice, and happy-go-lucky Lee Trevino.

Palmer made the best showing of his current comeback attempt last week in the Kaiser International at Napa, Calif., finishing just four strokes off the pace. He hit 33 of 36 greens on the last two rounds but just couldn't make a putt.

Trevino, the defending champion, and his stablemate, U.S. Open champion Orville Moody, arrived Monday after a lengthy tour of the far east.

Cotton Bowl Already Has List of 10

DALLAS (AP) — The Cotton Bowl selection committee is carrying 10 teams on its list of candidates with Penn State and Tennessee the top choices.

However, Tennessee has already indicated it would like to go to the Orange Bowl.

Penn State is unbeaten and untied and ranks fifth in the latest Associated Press poll.

Other candidates include Missouri, Georgia, Auburn, Alabama, Nebraska, Kansas State, Florida and Louisiana State.

The Cotton Bowl selection committee will see the Oklahoma-Missouri, Georgia-Florida, Alabama-LSU, Mississippi State-Auburn and South Carolina-Tennessee games this weekend.

Sellers Shows Why He Was Draft Pick

BOSTON (AP) — It took a little while, but Ron Sellers is finally showing Boston Patriots fans the reason why he was the American Football League's No. 1 draft pick this year.

The lanky rookie pass receiver, who fell behind at the beginning of the season due to holding out and then was slowed by a succession of injuries, came into his own Sunday with a pair of touchdowns as the Pats upset Houston 24-0 for their first victory of the season.

Both scores came on brilliant patterns as he outdueled the Oilers' Miller Farr, one of the AFL's top defensive backs, and the performance earned Sellers recognition by the Associated Press as the AFL Offensive Player of the Week.

"This has to be my best game as a pro—so far," Sellers said. "I just hope I can go six more games (the remainder of the schedule) without any more injuries."

Costa Simply Amazed About Shutout

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Stan Jones, Denver's defensive line coach, cradled the game ball. Head Coach Lou Saban beamed at the crowd of well-wishers.

And big Dave Costa wondered what all the fuss was about.

"First shutout? Since when?" the Broncos' defensive captain wanted to know.

"You've got to be kidding," he exclaimed when the answer came—the Broncos' 13-0 victory over San Diego last Sunday was the first shutout in their 10-year, 134-game American Football League history.

Costa's amazement could easily be explained. The 215-pound tackle didn't arrive in Denver until 1987, after stints with Oakland and Buffalo during which he savored more than a few shutout victories.

But Denver fans won't forget the whitewash coating Costa and his defensive cohorts slapped on the Chargers, who hadn't been blanked in 105 regular season games going back to 1961.

Costa, who spearheaded the charge that limited San Diego to 70 yards total offense and just three invasions of Denver territory, was selected today as the AFL's Defensive Player of the Week.

The brawny veteran from Yonkers, N.Y., and the University of Utah was credited with six unassisted tackles, twice smearing San Diego passers for big losses as the Chargers' aerial attack netted only 20 yards.

Bands Are for Birds at the Air Force

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Most college football teams consider halftime for the bands, but at the Air Force it's for the birds.

With its flying falcon act, the Air Force has provided perhaps the most exciting halftime show in football with the crowd always wondering:

"Will the Falcons get back their falcon?"

"You can always see a band at a football halftime," explained Cadet Second Class Steve Bristow, one of the 12 underclassmen who train the school mascots. "But we give the crowd something different."

Ever since the Air Force Academy started playing football shortly after its creation 14 years ago, these trained falcons have been let loose during halftime for a flight around the stadium, diving at a sponge rubber lure held by a trainer. Several brought a laugh from the crowd by flying right out of the stadium.

But the Cadets have almost a perfect record of recovery in 10 years. They have only lost two birds, and they know where one of those is. He can be found eating pigeons in the Sante Fe railroad yard near Soldier Field in Chicago.

"Last year at the Navy game, one flew out of Soldier Field," said Cadet Second Class Paul Ring. "We found him the following Tuesday in the yard. They aren't trained to hunt, so we were worried he might starve to death. But he learned in a hurry. He could knock a pigeon right out of the air—like a guided missile."

Col. James C. McIntyre, the officer in charge of the falcon training program, looked back sadly on the other loss.

"That was Batman—that's the name we gave him—two years ago," recalled the colonel. "He was flying around the stadium at home during halftime when our demonstration team of Thunderbird fighter planes kicked in their afterburners. He heard that and decided he'd had enough. And away he went. We never heard from him again."

Student bodies of some schools also have tried pranks to ruin the halftime act.

They have been known to release pigeons while the falcons are cruising overhead, but as Bristow explained, "our birds couldn't care less."

"We get them out of the nest before they can fly. They don't even know a pigeon is good to eat. They're only interested in the lure. When we take them out flying, they really get excited because they know it's chow time."

A piece of meat is tied to the lure and at first the trainers let the birds hit it every time. Then they begin to pull it out of the way occasionally and soon the birds become conditioned to diving for their food.

"They'll do 20 passes during a halftime show," Col. McIntyre said.

It's possible to get them to do as many as 50 passes, but then that's a rare bird, indeed.

Texas Back Is Player of the Week

By DENNE H. FREEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
You would think, watching Jim Bertelsen in action, that the bruising Texas sophomore knows where he is going with the football.

Obviously, he knows where the goal line is or he wouldn't have scored four touchdowns in Saturday's 45-14 rout of Southern Methodist. But Bertelsen says it's strictly automatic pilot.

"Once I get the ball, I just forget everything—instinct takes over," says Bertelsen. "It's really hard to think what you are doing. Deep down you might think about certain things, like mixing power and breakaway traits. But I believe most runners just inherit their running skill. There are very few backs who are what you might call self-made."

Whatever makes the 194-pound Hudson, Wis., product tick, it was enough to get him named The Associated Press Southwest Conference Offensive Player of the Week.

Arkansas defensive end Bruce James nailed down defensive honors by recovering two fumbles and getting 10 unassisted tackles in a 35-13 route of Texas A&M.

Bertelsen rolled up 137 yards as the Longhorn backfield ground out a total of 611 yards of yards against the Mustangs. Bertelsen was first brought to the attention of Texas coaches through his aunt in Grand Prairie who works for a Texas ex. He had a desire to play for a Southern School because he did not particularly relish those Wisconsin winters.

"Texas sent for some films and I guess they liked what they saw," said Bertelsen.

Bertelsen scored on runs of 7, 26, 3 and 13 yards. Early in the game, he fumbled several times and said about that time he was a candidate for "Dog of the Week."

Bertelsen said he has had a hard time learning to block—which is a most fundamental item in Coach Darrell Royal's wishbone-T offense.

"Coach (Emory) Ballard got hold of me in spring training and taught me the other side of things. He sure has helped me a lot. When I first came here, I didn't know what a block was."

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 1970 Super Bowl football game will be quite democratic in that it will cost you $15 no matter where you sit—end zone or 50 yard line.

The price per ticket to the Jan. 11 game in Tulane's 80,000-seat stadium was announced Tuesday by Jim Kensil, executive director of commissioner Pete Rozelle's office.

Frequent Nosebleeds May Be Signs of Anemia

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My son, 25, has had severe nosebleeds all his life. Sometimes they occur when he is asleep. Is there any way he can be cured?

A—The commonest cause of spontaneous nosebleeds—those not caused by a blow or picking hard crusts from the nose—is high blood pressure. Excessive dryness of the indoor air, especially in winter, may be a contributing cause. Anyone who has frequent nosebleeds should be checked for signs of anemia.

If applying a thin film of mineral oil to the nostrils at night and humidifying the air to keep hard crusts from forming and lowering the blood pressure, if it is high, do not stop the nosebleeds your son should see a nose-and-throat specialist who may be able to locate a small ulcer or weak blood vessel and treat it.

Q—I have chronic sinusitis and postnasal drip. I have to use over 20 nasal tissues a day. Is there any cure for this?

A—The usual cause is a low-grade infection or an allergy. The first step in the treatment is to identify the cause. Then, if the condition is chronic, treatment can be expected to give some improvement but complete cure is difficult.

Q—Is it harmful to use a mild nasal spray several times a day?

A—Nasal decongestants should be used sparingly because they have a tendency to lose their effectiveness and to cause a rebound reaction—when the temporary relief wears off the congestion is worse than ever. Constant use of nasal sprays is the cause of many cases of chronic rhinitis and sinusitis. It may also cause nervous tension, tremors and palpitations.

Opening lead—♥ Q

In match point duplicate play, when you are in a normal contract you avoid safety plays and go after overtricks. In rubber bridge, the reverse applies. You play safe for your contract and just go for overtricks after the contract is assured.

Any good rubber bridge player would win the heart lead and play a diamond to dummy's nine at trick two. Later on he would gallop home with four diamond tricks and his contract.

An over-optimistic duplicate player would perhaps try the same safety play and would come up with a top score this time, but a good duplicate player would hang out the top diamonds and wind up down one if the defense did its job properly.

Why would he do this? Because he would be in a normal contract and would play for as many tricks as possible. Overtricks mean little in rubber bridge. They mean wins in duplicate play.

The diamond jack will drop 54 per cent of the time, so he starts with a 54 per cent chance of making five diamond tricks. Then, if the diamond jack fails to drop, he can still bring home nine tricks if the clubs divide 3-3.

In addition, West will have to make two discards on diamonds. He had better throw away two spades and hang onto all his clubs and hearts if he wants to keep South from making a third trick in one of those suits.

If all this happens to him, South can't e a s o n that he shouldn't have gotten out of bed that morning and look forward to a better day.

Heavy Losses Suffered by S. Vietnam

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese suffered their heaviest losses in four months Tuesday in a 10-hour battle in the southwest corner of the central highlands. But the government troops reported three times as many North Vietnamese killed with the help of American dive-bombers and artillery.

Reports from the field said 24 South Vietnamese soldiers and 80 North Vietnamese were killed in the fighting six to eight miles southwest of the Duc Lap Special Forces camp. Another 38 South Vietnamese were wounded, and several were reported missing.

A government ranger battalion of about 400 men made the first contact with a strong enemy force in the frontier area about 115 miles northeast of Saigon. Two infantry battalions and an armored battalion were rushed up until about 1,500 government troops were fighting in the rolling hills overgrown with long grass.

The North Vietnamese were from the same three regiments that fought South Vietnamese troops last May and June around the Ben Het Special Forces camp and in the D valley in the northern part of the central highlands.

The only American participation in that campaign was in the form of air and artillery support, and the U.S. Command viewed the fighting as a test of the American plan to gradually turn over the major burden of the fighting to the South Vietnamese.

Since June, the three enemy regiments moved south along the Cambodian border into the southern highlands to apply pressure on Duc Lap and the Bu Prang Special Forces camp 25 miles south of Duc Lap. Troops from these regiments forced U.S. and South Vietnamese forces to abandon three artillery

Memory Has Some Well Turned Pages If You Remember These Things

Fulbright Group May Open New Round of War Policy Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee unexpectedly put off a decision today on whether to conduct public hearings on the Vietnam war.

Instead, Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said, the committee agreed without dissent to ask Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird to testify during the week of Nov. 17 in closed session.

"Then we'll decide what to do subsequent to that," Fulbright told newsmen.

The closed-door hearing planned with Rogers and Laird would come after the scheduled march on Washington by anti-war demonstrators.

But the chief reason for the timing, Fulbright said, was the fact that an inquiry has been set for next week into the situation in Thailand, not the forthcoming antiwar demonstrations.

He said witnesses are coming from Thailand for the closed hearings being conducted by a subcommittee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo.

Fulbright, who was critical of President Nixon's speech Monday night on the Vietnam war, said he favored the procedure agreed on by the committee.

Her hearing from Rogers and Laird in closed session, he said, the committee will be better able to judge whether to hear further testimony. He also said that "the committee didn't want to do anything that could be interpreted as antagonistic and as contributing to any undue inflammation of the public mind."

"These are very difficult times," he added. Expressing his disappointment in Nixon's speech on Vietnam, Fulbright said Tuesday: "He now has fully and truthfully taken on himself the Johnson war, and I think it is a fundamental error."

Besides Fulbright, calls for committee hearings on the war came from Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, and Sens. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

Symington, D-Mo., joined Assistant Democratic Leader Edward M. Kennedy in asserting Nixon's speech shows he has no plan at all for ending the war.

Most Republicans expressed support for Nixon's policies. But GOP Sens. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon and James Pearson of Kansas said they had hoped Nixon would announce new U.S. troop withdrawals.

Pearson, however, predicted a further announcement before Christmas, and added he expects most U.S. ground troops to be out of Vietnam by the end of 1970. Similar predictions had been made earlier by senior congressional Republicans.

Permit Rejected for Protest March From White House to Capitol

By WILLIAM BARTON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has rejected a permit for a mass march from the Capitol to the White House Nov. 15 to culminate what is being billed as the largest antiwar protest in history.

Only "a small symbolic parade" will be allowed, the Justice Department announced Tuesday night, citing "reliable reports" some demonstrators plan to "foment violence or to stage confrontations."

A department spokesman claimed "coordinated and effective law enforcement would be impossible" if "any serious violence" should erupt along the Pennsylvania Avenue route.

Immediately, the New Mobilization Committee, sponsor of the anti-Vietnam protests planned for Nov. 13-15, denied the charge and accused department officials of negotiating in bad faith.

Meanwhile, some demonstration leaders suggested Tuesday their protest would be swelled by new recruits unhappy with what they termed "the hard line" taken by President Nixon in his Monday night Vietnam policy speech.

They earlier had forecast as many as 500,000 persons would take part in the massive protest.

Two weeks of negotiations between the government and New Mobilization representatives broke off Monday because of a stalemate over the planned mass march finale.

But Ron Young, co-director of the project, suggested the department's refusal to allow a massive demonstration is a "delaying tactic" designed to make it "much more difficult for us to do all the necessary planning and coordination for the event."

In rejecting the permit, the Justice Department said it balanced "the First Amendment rights" of protesters to "hold a hopefully peaceful demonstration" against "the rights of the citizens of Washington to be assured that the city will remain peaceful if there is an influx of the 500,000 persons some sponsors claim may participate."

While rebuffing plans for the mass march, the government offered to permit a 40-hour "March Against Death," scheduled to start late Nov. 13 and end just before the major protest.

That plan calls for 50,000 persons to march in files of twos from Arlington National Cemetery, down Pennsylvania Avenue in front of the White House and then to the Capitol grounds.

Garland OEO Probe Is Underway

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Hot Springs Mayor Dan Wolf has agreed to an investigation of the Garland County Office of Economic Opportunity.

Garland Puckett, chairman of the city's Biracial Committee, which requested the investigation, said the committee wanted to check the operations of the antipoverty agency, but that it was denied access to the records.

Puckett told the City Council Monday night that committee members went to the OEO office but were "given the run-around."

"The general consensus is that the office is spending too much on senior citizens and not enough on helping the poor," Puckett said.

Dr. Dyde Hart, state OEO director, Tuesday resigned to become director of the Garland County OEO.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Jimmy Britton, 44, a Tucker Prison Farm inmate, was charged Tuesday with rape of a prison employee Oct. 30 on a secluded dirt road.

Vote Against Lowering Voting Age

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Proposals to lower the voting age in New Jersey and Ohio were turned down in statewide referenda Tuesday. Voters in a quarter of North Carolina's counties approved an additional one per cent sales tax for local purposes.

Other referenda on state and city ballots included measures to subsidize mass transit, school bonds and proposals to legalize local liquor sales.

In New Jersey the proposal to lower the voting age from 21 to 18 years was rejected by a 901,055 to 636,265 margin with 81 per cent of the vote counted.

Backers of a "Vote 19" measure in Ohio conceded defeat when the measure was trailing by 68,000 votes but announced plans to put the issue back on the ballot next year.

Georgia and Kentucky are the only states currently with a voting age of 18. Residents in Alaska are eligible to vote at 19 and in Hawaii at age 20.

Nixon Feels Vote Good Response

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today Republican election victories in New Jersey and Virginia, plus what he regards as a good public response to his Vietnam policy speech, could help quiet his critics on Capitol Hill.

"Washington does react to the nation," the President said in a live interview on the NBC Today show from the state dining room of the White House.

The occasion was a breakfast Nixon held for 20 Congress members who were among his first 1968 supporters.

Nixon clearly was delighted with the election of Republicans William T. Cahill as governor of New Jersey and Linwood Holton as governor of Virginia.

The President campaigned in both states last week and, he said, the Democratic opponents of Cahill and Holton tried to make him an election issue.

But the chief executive disclaimed credit for the election results saying, "If a man wins it . . . I don't take the credit."

29 Degrees, Season's 1st Killing Frost

The season's first killing frost struck this morning, Wednesday, Nov. 5, when an official low of 29 degrees was reported by the Fruit & Truck Branch Experiment Station.

The Weather Man had given two preliminary warnings—Saturday, Nov. 1, with a low of 34 but no killing frost; and again Monday, Nov. 3, with a low of 33.

Here is a 12-year record of first killing-frost dates as shown by official Experiment Station reports to The Star:

Tradition has it that our first killing frost arrives between the last week in October and November 20. So it arrived on schedule this season. We've been keeping the Experiment Station's frost report in our ABC Circulation Book for the last 11 years. In eight of those years a killing frost arrived in November, the other three showed in late October.

But it's sweet music to an ex-Northern Pennsylvanian who used to see frost strike at the end of August. Here we have a two-months-longer growing season than the northern tier of states.

The 11-year frost record for Southwest Arkansas follows:

1958 — Nov. 7 — 32 degrees
1959 — Nov. 6 — 25
1960 — Nov. 11 — 22
1961 — Oct. 27 — 31
1962 — Nov. 4 — 30
1963 — Nov. 14 — 23
1964 — Nov. 20 — 29
1965 — Oct. 25 — 27
1966 — Oct. 20 — 27
1967 — Nov. 4 — 32

John Lindsay

Liberal
Lindsay May Be Ousted From GOP

NEW YORK (AP) — Has Mayor John V. Lindsay's re-election as an independent cost him his standing in the Republican party, and perhaps a shot at the White House some day? GOP leaders say the choice of staying with the GOP is up to him.

National party chairman Rogers C.B. Morton, Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and state party chairman Charles Lanigan all have left the door open for Lindsay.

But Lindsay—who won by forging a coalition of liberal Democrats and Republicans, independents and Liberal party members—has promised to take a four-year vacation from Republican politics.

"I can't afford the business of partisanship," he said Oct. 24. He said he would run a "coalition" administration and "not campaign or raise funds for Republican candidates during his term."

Lindsay, 47, was forced into running as the candidate of his independent party and the small Liberal party after Republican voters narrowly rejected him in the June primary.

After Lindsay was re-elected Tuesday, Morton said in Washington that New York politics would determine whether Lindsay came back into the party's fold.

"If he's a Republican there, he's a Republican everywhere," Morton said. "If he doesn't want to join, it's very difficult for us at a national level to do anything much about it."

Lanigan said of Lindsay, "Unless he should indicate otherwise, we would anticipate working with him."

Rockefeller, who endorsed but did not campaign for the Republican candidate, state Sen. John J. Marchi, sent Lindsay "best wishes and congratulations."

Some think Lindsay might even switch parties. They cite the mayor's ability to attract Democratic votes. But Lindsay says, "I've been an enrolled Republican all my life and I have no plans to change that status."

And the two victories gave Republicans 32 governorships, leaving the Democrats with only 18.

Nixon found time during a black tie dinner at the White House to telephone his congratulations to the two Republican winners.

"One thing is evident in the two races," said Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, the Republican national chairman. "In New Jersey the Democrat made an issue out of the President's position in Vietnam and lost, and in Virginia the Republican made it an issue by backing the President and won."

Tanker With 36 Aboard Is Sinking

BOSTON (AP) — A tanker with 36 men aboard and laden with fuel oil split in half and began sinking today in an intense storm 120 miles southeast of Nantucket Island, the Coast Guard said.

The ship was identified as the SS Keo of Liberian registration. Its owner is the Napfion Shipping Corp. of Monrovia, the Coast Guard reported.

The Coast Guard also said a yacht with five or six persons aboard, identified only as the Whisper, was breaking up and sinking in the same area.

There was no immediate word on loss of life in either situation, but a Coast Guard spokesman said he understood most of the Keo's crewmen took refuge on the ship's stern.

Republicans Triumph in Elections

By WALTER H. MEARS
AP Political Writer

Republicans have captured showpiece state elections with a Virginia upset and a New Jersey landslide, while New York Mayor John V. Lindsay fashioned a personal triumph and became his party's ranking free-lance politician.

President Nixon, who intervened as a campaigner, shared in the twin GOP victories Tuesday which made a Republican governor of Virginia for the first time in nearly a century, and won the New Jersey state house after 16 years of Democratic rule.

Lindsay, a Republican but not a Republican nominee, won his three-way race with a margin greater than that he built four years ago to win his first term.

The victory gave new lustre to his credentials as a man with a potential future in national politics.

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, withstood the tough challenge of a Republican rival who challenged his crime-fighting record.

A black candidate was narrowly defeated in Detroit; black independents ran far behind major party nominees in races for mayor of Buffalo and Hartford.

Republican Linwood Holton captured the Virginia statehouse in the major upset of the off-year elections, defeating Democrat William C. Battle—and stopping at 21 a chain of Democratic gubernatorial victories there.

"The first congratulations we got came from our friend in the White House," said the victorious Holton.

Nixon was indeed a friend, flying to Roanoke a week before the election to campaign for Holton, an old political ally; urging Virginia to set an example for the entire South by breaking with Democratic tradition.

The President put in an evening's campaigning, too, for Rep. William T. Cahill, the six-term congressman who swamped former Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner to win election as governor of New Jersey.

In Virginia, returns from 1,863 of 2,032 precincts gave Holton 437,897 votes, Battle, 374,516. Cahill trounced Meyner. With 4,858 of 5,081 districts counted, the Republican had 1,340,621 votes, the Democrat 877,228.

That victory delivered to the GOP the last of the northern industrial states still governed by a Democrat, Richard J. Hughes, who was ineligible for another term.

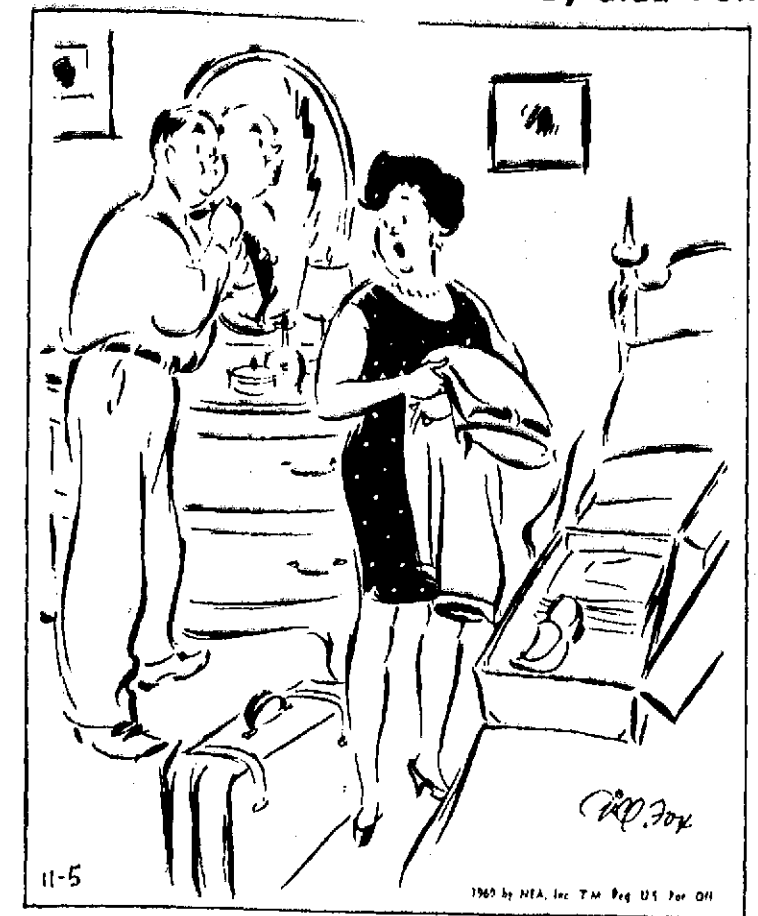

And the two victories gave Republicans 32 governorships, leaving the Democrats with only 18.

Nixon found time during a black tie dinner at the White House to telephone his congratulations to the two Republican winners.

"One thing is evident in the two races," said Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, the Republican national chairman. "In New Jersey the Democrat made an issue out of the President's position in Vietnam and lost, and in Virginia the Republican made it an issue by backing the President and won."

One Killed in 3-Vehicle Accident

CARLISLE, Ark. (AP)—State Police say today that one man was killed and another injured in a three-vehicle accident near here last night.

Dead is Charles Kenneth Finley, 49, of Covington, Ky. Injured was Emmett Malcolm Thompson, 54, of Birmingham, Ala.

Police say the accident occurred one-half mile east of Carlisle on Interstate 40 when Thompson's car, stopped in the outside lane, was struck in the rear by a tractor-trailer driven by Finley.

Police say Thompson's car was knocked through a fence into a field and Finley then stopped his vehicle on the shoulder and got out to assist Thompson who was lying in the median. Finley was then struck and killed by a car driven by C. T. Lowery Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., as Finley crossed into the inside traffic lane.

Man Testifies About Plane, Loses Job

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A. Ernest Fitzgerald says the Air Force eliminated his $28,000-a-year job in retaliation for his Congressional testimony disclosing multimillion-dollar cost overruns for the giant C5A supersonic plane.

"I couldn't prove that, but I think it's a safe assumption," the 43-year-old Fitzgerald said after the Air Force said Tuesday his job had been abolished as a part of a "reorganizational" move. He said he wouldn't "waste time" trying to appeal.

The service said the action was "absolutely not" related to what it referred to as Fitzgerald's "previous notoriety in relation with congressional testimony."

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., disagrees. He said elimination of Fitzgerald's job—deputy for management systems in the office of assistant secretary of the Air Force for financial management—was clearly reprisal for the C5A testimony.

"It is a clear message from the Pentagon to its employees," Proxmire said. "That message is: Do not try to reduce costs; do not aim at efficiency; don't attempt to achieve economy. If you do you will be isolated and fired."

Proxmire, who headed the subcommittee that heard Fitzgerald's testimony, said: "To fire a man who has exposed the most gross form of waste and inefficiency in government on the grounds of economy is to make a mockery of that term."

Secretary of the Air Force Robert C. Seamans said the job was abolished as one of some 850 military and civilian reductions ordered in the service to save money.

It was Fitzgerald who, beginning about a year ago, informed Proxmire and other members of Congress that the C5A program, which involves the world's largest aircraft, would cost $2 billion more than the original estimate of $3.1 billion.

The Birmingham, Ala., native blamed the cost overruns on faulty cost estimating by the Air Force, inadequate cost control and planning and other things. Fitzgerald said in a telephone interview "there is no question" but that the Air Force tried to conceal spiraling cost estimates on the C5A 120-plane contract with Lockheed-Georgia Corp.

Most recent Air Force estimate on the programs cost is $5.2 billion, a figure Fitzgerald was testifying to a year ago. He said now he expects the cost to go as high as $5.8 billion, or $2.6 billion above the 1965 estimates when the plane was authorized.

Barbers, Lice Hippy Enemies

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Long-haired hippies have one enemy more powerful than the establishment, says Barbers Union Local 496.

In its monthly bulletin, the union asked its members to help head off the enemy—lice.

"History is repeating itself," the bulletin said. "In years gone by, before the bathtub, pediculouses (head lice) were very prominent and nauseating to the barber."

"Today the new style of long hair and in many cases fugitives from the bathtub are creating the same problem. Pediculouses multiply and spread rapidly."

The union bulletin said the preventative is reasonably short hair on the younger generation and hippies.

Nixon Bound Tighter to Troop Pullout

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon appears to have bound himself tighter than before to a possible pullout of all U.S. ground combat troops from Vietnam by the end of 1970.

This conclusion grows out of an analysis of Nixon's report Monday night placed against the background of his statements on the question last June.

While refusing to announce a withdrawal timetable, Nixon told the nation progress in training South Vietnamese forces and an easing of enemy battlefield activity "has been greater than we anticipated when we started" the pullout program.

"As a result, our timetable for withdrawal is more optimistic now than when we made our first estimates in June," the President said.

At a news conference last June 19, Nixon said "I would hope that we could beat" a timetable proposed at the time by former Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford.

Clifford had urged a pullout of 100,000 American troops by the end of 1969 and withdrawal of all U.S. ground fighting forces by the end of next year. While Nixon expressed only a hope, such words in the mouth of a president tends to become regarded as a goal.

The President's Monday night reference to being more optimistic now than in June suggests possibly a speedup in the pullout which could achieve the hoped-for objective of bringing back all ground combat men by the November 1970 congressional elections—a development which could yield a political bonus.

Nixon left himself an escape hatch in warning that if the level of enemy activity significantly increases, "we might have to adjust our timetable accordingly."

A total of 60,000 American servicemen will be out of Vietnam by mid-December, under plans already in motion.

Pentagon sources indicate another withdrawal announcement may be expected in December.

These sources hint that, if Nixon approves, the next withdrawal slice could run around 40,250.

A full withdrawal of ground combat forces probably would total about 250,000 men, leaving another roughly 275,000 to 300,000 tactical air, artillery and other support elements to back up the South Vietnamese army, which would have taken over the ground battle role.

Welfare Board Asked to Change Policy

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Welfare Board will be asked to change a policy that would stop welfare payments to parents whose children are boycotting Carthage public schools, boycott sympathizers said Tuesday.

The boycott is by about 175 youngsters. They are being taught in Carthage churches.

The welfare rule requires that families receiving payments of aid to families with dependent children must have their school-age children attend schools approved by the state Education Department.

The church schools do not have such approval, state Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock said.

The sympathizers met Tuesday with Blaylock in his office. The groups included Friends Inc., the Welfare Rights Organization of Pulaski County and the Committee for a Peaceful Coexistence.

Blaylock told the group he would stand by the rule.

The boycott is based on demands made by Negroes and rejected by school officials.

School Supt. Irvin Bass said the Negroes have demanded the ouster of himself and three members of the school board, the rehiring of a Negro counselor and the employment of more Negro teachers.

Forestry Study Day Here Is Well Attended

The recent Southwest Branch Experiment Station Forestry Study Day was well attended by people from throughout Southwest Arkansas. A portion of the group is shown above.

Pine Sawlogs shown above were on display for the visitors. The total volume of 35,624 Board Feet of Sawlogs represents 3 years growth from a 25.7 acre woodland that has been under management for 31 years.

In addition to the sawlogs cut from this 25.7 acre woodland, the above picture shows 15.5 cords pulpwood that grew during the same 3 year period.

Law-and-Order Not Believed Any Factor

An AP News Analysis By VICTOR L. SIMPSON Associated Press Writer

Several candidates shunning the "law-and-order" issue swept to victory in municipal elections Tuesday that saw a Negro win re-election as mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, a black lose to a white in Detroit and party line voting patterns shattered in New York City with the re-election of John V. Lindsay.

Lindsay, Liberal-Independent candidate after losing in the Republican primary, carved out considerable strength in non-white and Jewish areas of the city, both traditional Democratic strongholds. Lindsay campaigned for Vietnam withdrawal and a shift in the nation's priorities.

Carl B. Stokes, the first Negro elected mayor of a major U.S. city with a 1,679-vote victory in 1967, fared somewhat better this time and improved on his showing in white neighborhoods. His opponent, Republican County Auditor Ralph J. Perk, had promised to combat the city's growing crime rate.

In Detroit, Wayne County Sheriff Roman Gribbs, who spurned the "law-and-order" label in favor of "law with justice" defeated county Auditor Richard Austin, a Negro accountant. Both men had pledged to keep race from becoming a campaign issue.

In Pittsburgh, a Maverick Democrat, Peter F. Flaherty, aided by a 3-1 Democratic registration, scored almost a 2-1 victory over Republican John K. Tabor. In the closing weeks of the campaign, Tabor had concentrated on the issue of "crime in the streets."

But the issue apparently gained him little support as Flaherty, who disavowed support from party regulars, ran well in both white middle-class and black areas of the city.

It was the same story in Buffalo, N.Y., where Democratic Mayor Frank A. Sedita won re-election to a second-term, defeating Republican-Conservative Alfreda W. Slominski. A Negro candidate placed third.

Sedita campaigned on the absence of racial violence from the city and the absence of strikes by city employees because, he said, the city paid them a living wage.

Lindsay's two opponents, Democrat Mario A. Procaccino and Republican-Conservative John J. Marchi, both stressed the need for "safety in the streets" during the long bitterly fought campaign.

Lindsay, who claimed to have put more police on the street than any mayor in the city's history, hammered at the Vietnam war issue, calling his victory "a message that the people of New York City want the war to end."

In the Detroit election, Gribbs maintained that crime was the No. 1 issue and, while he shunned the "law-and-order" label, racial voting patterns decided the outcome.

Austin received about 20 per cent of the white vote, and an aide said he needed 25 per cent to win. Negroes represent about 40 per cent of the population,

Vatican Denies Theft of 3 Paintings

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican today denied a report that three paintings had been stolen from Pope Paul's apartment.

"We can categorically deny the reports of a theft of paintings supposed to have taken place in the pontiff's apartment," the Vatican communiqué said.

The Italian News Agency had reported that three paintings valued at more than $1.5 million had been stolen from the papal apartment in the Vatican Apostolic Palace.

but only 30 per cent of the registered voters.

Support from liberal whites apparently again provided Cleveland. He carried about 24 per cent of the white vote this election, compared to 20 per cent in 1967.

The above picture proves you can have your cake and eat it too. Here we see the pine trees left after harvest with an average volume of 6,500 board feet per acre still standing.

Silent Majority Came Through in Election

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Americans President Nixon calls "the great silent majority" have come through for the Republican party in two feature races of the off-year elections, prompting GOP claims of "a Vietnam policy endorsement at the polls."

While Republicans can't prove their case from the Virginia and New Jersey governorship races, simply by making it they may influence the course of the war policy debate certain to erupt in the days and weeks ahead.

The message they want read into the outcome: A man running for office, or planning a campaign in next year's battle for Congress, would do well to stand by the President.

Not so, said a Democratic spokesman. "We don't look upon this as a test of Nixon's national strength."

That reaction in defeat was as predictable as the Republican argument in victory.

GOP national chairman Roger C.B. Morton claimed the voting results showed a hearty endorsement of the Vietnam posture Nixon discussed in an election eve report to the nation.

Nixon campaigned personally for Linwood Holton in Virginia and William T. Cahill in New Jersey. "The President's general endorsement by the public had a marked effect on the elections, no question about it," said Morton.

Nixon addressed his nationally televised Vietnam report to "the great silent majority of my fellow Americans."

"I ask for your support," he said.

Morton maintained Nixon had received what he sought.

But in New York, Mayor John V. Lindsay won re-election and said it showed the people of that city want the war to end. Denied the Republican nomination, Liberal and challenged the Nixon course.

While Nixon's campaign intervention, and the problem of war in Vietnam, undoubtedly influenced the elections, no one is claiming they were decisive factors.

Republicans are simply following the rules of politicking, just as the Democrats did in claiming a repudiation of the administration was signaled by their capture of previously GOP House seats in special congressional elections earlier in the year.

Democrats were surprised at the Virginia outcome; they had expected to win with William C. Battle. Certainly the divisive two-round primary in which Battle won his nomination left hangover problems for the Democrat.

He faced defections among labor and Negro leaders who bases around Bu Prang last weekend.

Elsewhere, half a dozen enemy sappers slipped into Quang Ngai, a provincial capital 80 miles southeast of Da Nang, before dawn Tuesday and threw grenades into a Roman Catholic church, a secondary school and seven houses. A government spokesman said he had no reports of any casualties, although one house was destroyed, and most of the other buildings were badly damaged. The sappers escaped.

U.S. and South Vietnamese communiques reported only scattered fights overnight and 22 enemy rocket and mortar attacks with nine of them causing casualties or damage. No Americans were killed in the shelling, U.S. headquarters said, but eight were wounded.

Before dawn today, U.S. infantrymen from the 25th Division trapped North Vietnamese troops apparently trying to move into an attack position near the district capital of Trang Bang, 28 miles northwest of Saigon. The infantrymen and helicopter gunships killed 26 of the enemy, and there were no American casualties, headquarters said.

The U.S. Command went ahead with plans to withdraw 35,000 American troops by Dec. 15, announcing that 2,500 men of the 3rd Marine Division will leave for Okinawa over the weekend. That will leave only one battalion and small support units of the 18,000-man division in Vietnam, and they will leave in the next few weeks.

American troop strength in Vietnam now is 495,200 men, and the current goal is to reduce it to about 480,000 by Dec. 15.

Sources in Bangkok reported today that about 500 U.S. Air Force personnel were pulled out of Thailand last month. They were from the 41st Tactical Electronic Warfare Squadron and the 556th Civil Engineering Squadron, both of which have been deactivated.

Thailand and the United States announced an agreement five weeks ago for withdrawal of 6,000 of the 49,000 U.S. troops in Thailand.

sought to purge with defeat the last vestiges of the once dominant organization founded by the late Sen. Harry F. Byrd.

Indeed, there were rumors that Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. might drop his Democratic affiliation and switch to the Republican side if he won.

Democrats had lingering organization trouble in New Jersey, too, where their nominee, Robert B. Meyner, encountered political foes dating from his two earlier terms as governor.

The major surprise for strategists of both national parties in the New Jersey outcome: the landslide proportions of the Cahill victory.

Bogus Buck Business Is Booming

By TOM TIEDE NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Who says it's hard to make a dollar these days? Actually, it's a good deal easier than ever before.

All a fellow needs is an offset printing press, some green ink, a good grade of paper—and he can make all the dollars he wants.

It's illegal, of course. Up to 15 years in prison. But still, what with modern methods of reproduction, bills are dark and lifeless. The fine lines that crisscross portions of the paper are not clear and distinct. And, since they can't be printed on real currency stock (legal tender paper is not commercially obtainable), it even feels phony to the touch.

As a result of the bogus inferiority, Treasury officers say that counterfeiting today, ironically, is one of the least profitable of all crimes. Some quick money can be made, authorities admit, but "sooner or later we get al-counterfeiting money is so easy that more and more people are doing it all the time.

The expansion of funny money is no laughing matter. No one can accurately say how much queer currency is being made at present. But the Treasury Department says it's too much. Last year, federal agents made 1,370 arrests and uncovered $10,294,386.32 in counterfeit money. This year the arrests and confiscations have been even greater. Some officials feel the trend is clearly a potential threat to the economic stability of the nation.

Says one Treasury Department authority:

"Right now, counterfeiting is big but far from being out of hand. However, supposing somebody wanted to create havoc in the country—like all these revolutionary students. With a little organization, they could put vast sums of bogus money on the market very quickly—and it could mean real trouble."

There is, officials say, a precedent to this worry. During the Revolutionary War, the British counterfeited American currency to such an extent that it nullified the value of all Continental currency and resulted in the old phrase: "Not worth a Continental."

The trouble is, say spokesmen for the Treasury Department's Secret Service, technology has made counterfeiting simple. Where once it was a complex matter involving several very skilled operations, it is now a process within the mechanical grasp of millions.

No longer are the bills exactly scratched out on engraving plates by temperamental old chalcographers in eyeshades. Now any kid or housewife with a basic knowledge of offset (photo engraving) printing can make a million in a few hours in the garage.

Sighs a Secret Service agent:

"Ninety-eight per cent of all bills today are done off-set. So, since there are at least a quarter of a million people in the country connected with this kind of printing, you can see we have a lot of suspects."

But if technology has increased the quantity of contemporary bogus money, it has also decreased the quality. Even the very best photo engraving job comes off the press as a very shabby facsimile.

"Anybody can spot the counterfeit stuff today," says the Secret Service. "The most everyone who is fool enough to peddle the stuff."

Agents say they usually get fake money within 48 hours after it's put on the market. It then goes into a computerized identification system which invariably narrows the fraud closer and closer to its source.

This is the critical kink for anyone deciding to go into the "funny money" business. True, anyone can do it. Officials say office boys in New York have even passed off some Xeroxed copies of $10 bills.

But: "I don't think anybody ever gets completely away with it," says a Secret Service man. "Sooner or later, we get hold of every counterfeit bill passed. And sooner or later, we get hold of every counterfeiter, too."

Steve Owens Picked the Back of Week

By DOUG TODD Associated Press Sports Writer

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Steve Owens woke up with a slight headache Monday morning, but that was understandable. He'd had a big weekend.

The bruising Oklahoma tailback carried 53 times for 248 yards and four touchdowns in a 37-14 Saturday victory over Iowa State. He also completed his only pass and caught a pass for 15 more yards.

For that performance, Owens earned college football Back of the Week honors from The Associated Press.

"I didn't really get tired," said Owens. "I felt like I was running better at the end of the game than at the first. I don't understand it, because I got hit real hard out there."

Owens is a 213-pound senior who is closing in on the all-time records for rushing and scoring. He needs 164 yards to surpass the NCAA career rushing mark of 3,388 set by West State's Mercury Morris last year. He needs two touchdowns to better the career mark of 51 set more than 20 years ago by Glenn Davis of Army.

And he has four games left, beginning with the regionally televised battle at Missouri this Saturday.

No one in the long history of college football ever carried the ball as often as Owens. His career total now stands at 856. Alan Ameche's old record, set at Wisconsin in the early 1950s, was 773.
